COMMUNICATION

"Tonopah, Nev., April 10, 1913.

EDITOR BONANZA—

Dear Sir: Some time ago I had occasion to address a communication to you having reference to the need for some action with regard to unsanitary conditions in our town. Since then an attempt has been made, by an association of leading business men and citizens, to arrive at a plan of action. After the first phase of the town's unsanitary condition was gone into a committee was appointed to look into the feasibility of purchasing the sewer plant. This committee rendered its report and as near as anyone can get at the facts pointed out just how the system could be acquired but the town board were inclined to defer action until the public service commission reported on the water company.

This report has been rendered and from all appearances tends to offer us some relief from rates considered exorbitant.

The creation of a sanitary district, whether for a municipally owned sewer system or for one privately owned, is of vital importance to the health of this community and it is hoped, now that the water rates have been reduced, that the town board will see fit to again take up this question and recommend a general distribution of the burden now being carried by a comparatively small portion of our town's people. In my previous communication it was pointed out that it is unjust that those of us who desire sanitary conditions, in other words freedom from the menace of antiquated, unsatisfactory and unhealthy makeshift arrangements such as cess pools, vaults, etc., that we should be made to pay the present high prices for sewer service when the general use of the sewer system would easily afford us better rates and a much needed protection to the health of our loved ones. The editorial appearing in your issue of yesterday very appropriately calls attention to the need of proper sanitary precautions and "starve the fly" is a slogan that Tonopah may well heed for we must not forget the incipient epidemic of scarlet fever that still lurks within the confines of our town awaiting only the coming warm weather, the seething cess pool and vault to increase its perniciousness. As previously urged let us do something, anything for health's sake.

BUTLER THEATER.

The pictures at the Butler theater tonight will be of great interest showing a Lubin special, "The Guiding Light." Peter Pife, keeper of the light at Casco Bay, lives alone with his 17-year-old daughter born blind. Harry, the girl's lover, saves all of his scant salary and gives it to Pife for an operation to restore Marie's sight. Dick Drayton is caught in the act of stealing the money and soundly thrashed. Bent on revenge he extinguishes the light. Marie through her quick wit, and fortitude restores the light, thereby saving Harry and his companions, who are in danger of being dashed on the rocks in the darkness. The brave girl's reward comes in the form of a successful operation and her engagement to Harry. "The Missing Bond," a Kaleid drama; "A Heroic Rescue," an Edison comedy. Saturday—Pathe Weekly No. 9.

Hoffman Lecture.

Arrangements for the lecture to be delivered at the Nevada theater Sunday night, April 13, by C. H. Hoffman of Kansas City, have been completed. The lecture is given under the auspices of the Socialist Lyceum bureau and the arrangements have been carried out by the local Socialists union. A heavy ticket sale has resulted and it is evident that the theater will be packed.
